Dear Paul,

It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the International School of Koje (ISK) has been awarded IMYC Accreditation at mastering level in all nine criteria.

ISK is the first IMYC school in the world to become accredited. This is a wonderful tribute to the hard work, dedication and focus of your school community. A school that is accredited provides evidence for and about the IMYC that the curriculum is both rigorous and developmental. ISK is an important symbol of everything we stand for.

Along with a copy of the accreditation report and improving learning recommendations, we send you our warmest congratulations and thanks.

Yours sincerely,

Richard Davies
Divisional Director, Fieldwork Education
